

THE SEA FIGHT

In a town on the coastal side of Florida, was a boy named Sebastian (Seb by his friends) who was gazing out of the window. "Where are they?" Sebastian said out loud, "they should be here." "Ding dony ding!" The bell! Sebastian raced down the stairs and found Danny, Elizabeth, Max and Toby standing in the doorway. "Sorry were late," remarked Elizabeth. "It's okay," replied Sebastian, "Have you seen them yet?" "No," chipped Toby, "we hoped you'd of seen 'em." Sebastian shook his head.

"Thank goodness," sighed Danny. "Well in that case lets prepare," suggested Max, so they did. They boarded up the windows and got the Mageshast weapons from the basement. Next they went to 'sebs' room to keep watch. "Now we wait," commanded Seb.

2 hours later

CRASH!!! The kraken's tentacle thumped the cliff. "come on!" shouted seb and every one threw their spears. They lodged themselves in the kraken tough, slimy skin. The kraken was not happy and let out a mighty ROOAR!! Suddenly, the ground rumbled and The Green Bluster speared out of the water, heading straight for the cliff. But Missed! It never misses! seb thought as it splashed in the water. Then some thing caught his eye. The water seemed to be pulling back the sea monsters! Both monsters roared in anger as they fought the very ocean. Finally the water got the better of them and pulled them back in the ocean. Seb was stunned as the water itself had saved them. It seemed water kept surprising seb and never stopped being wonderful.
