

Wonderful Water

Once, there was a poor girl, living on the streets, nowhere to go. She asked some people if they have a spare room, but they just ignored her. Every day, the girl felt anxious, wondering how if someone would let her have a space in someones home, but then, she saw something glistened at the corner of her eye, and then, she saw a sparkling fountain, she was surprised, and there was TONS of wonderful water, splashing right high into the air, shining the girls eyes. She ran as fast as she could as grass tickled her feet. She laughed as she ran, feeling happy with joy, but as she got towards it, there was a note lying on the tall, fresh green grass, it was rusty and dirty, and it said something that amazed her, it said "If you reached this fountain full of wonder water, inside, you're the lucky person who deserves this spectacular gift. All you have to do is just find something in the wonderful water, keep it for a day and wait patiently for tomorrow." This made the girl so happy, she straight away reached her hand in the water, looking carefully for the special gift. After a while, she found it and gasped. There was a shiny, glimmering diamond in the water, jumping up and down cheerfully. She went back where she was before, gazing at the bright diamond, thinking what she would get tomorrow. It turned gloomy, making the girl asleep calmly and making her smile for the next day. Hours and hours passed, birds were chirping happily, there wasn't a single cloud in the blue sky and it was colourful and glorious sun came out. The girl woke up, yawning and stretching exhaustedly, but her special day had arrived. She was so excited, until three fashionable bodyguards came across her, telling her to follow them, the girl felt extremely frightened, she didn't do anything she thought, but she stood up and follow them, fidgeting with her cold fingers as she walked slowly. They arrived at a huge castle, and on the doorstep, there was a note, saying "You've made it you've made it! I'm so proud. In this huge castle, there will be another note in there and then you will receive the gift." She got nervous if this would be a prank or not. She put her sweaty hands on the golden door handle and twisted it open, and in front of her was a key and the last note. She crossed her fingers and read the note "You're the most luckiest person to receive this, and if you would be wondering where your diamonds, you won't need it because... THIS IS YOU'RE NEW HOME!! ENJOY!!!" The girl cried from joy, this wonderful water saved her whole life! After a couple months, she is living a wonderful life and visits the fountain everyday.

THE END 😊