

Religious Education Medium Term Plan

Year 6 Spring

HINDUISM

Intent

Park Junior School follows the procedures and guidelines of the Northamptonshire Agreed Syllabus. Our RE curriculum encourages our children to become religiously literate; to enable our children to develop the knowledge and understanding around a range of religious and worldwide views so that they can describe, explain, analyse and investigate allowing them to appreciate the beliefs, practises and spiritual insights of others, including non-religious. We aim to offer rich, vibrant and meaningful opportunities that, through discussion and a range of learning activities, will enable our children to develop local, national and global awareness. Our RE curriculum plays an important part in preparing our children for life in modern Britain. Its importance is increasing as globalisation has created greater links and migration between societies of different faiths and cultures. It is important that children develop the ability to talk with fluency and understanding about religion and belief. Through Religious Education, our children are given opportunities to reflect on the nature and role of beliefs, the attitudes and values underpinning these, and the practices and behaviours that arise because of them. Skills developed through the teaching of R.E. include developing self-awareness, respect for all, open-mindedness, appreciation and wonder. Our approach to learning is experiential and through enquiry. We explore diversity, respect and value of others in all communities by comparing similarities and differences within and between religions, humanism and other world views.

Implementation

Our long term RE plan covers the Northamptonshire Syllabus objectives thoroughly, ensuring that each year group builds on the previous experiences. Across the four years, we teach Christianity, Buddhism, Islam, Hinduism, Sikhism and Judaism. As well as this, non-religious beliefs (humanism) and an acknowledgment of other world views. Our children are encouraged to be curious and to ask increasingly challenging questions about religion, belief, values and human life. The sequences of lessons promote an enquiry based curriculum, which planned so that links between beliefs are consistently revisited to enable children to build upon the skills, knowledge and understanding of the diverse communities within our own locality, nationally and globally. Children are encouraged to make connections between different features of the religions and worldviews they study, and ask questions that lead them further into their enquiry and research. They describe and understand links between stories and other aspects of the communities they are investigating and explore and describe a range of beliefs, symbols and actions so that they can understand different ways of life and ways of expressing meaning. Deeper thinking promotes why belonging to a community may be valuable, both in the diverse communities being studied and in their own lives. Discussing challenging questions about belonging, meaning, purpose and truth, in their own lives and that of others, and linking to the expressive arts, pupils develop their own imaginative and creative ways of expressing their own and others' beliefs. They consider and apply ideas about ways in which diverse communities can live together for the well-being of all, responding thoughtfully to ideas about community, values and respect, and discuss and apply their own and others' ideas about ethical questions, including ideas about what is right and wrong and what is just and fair, and express their own ideas clearly in response. Every child is encouraged to reach their potential through careful differentiation of questioning, depth of discussion, resources and activities to support and extend. Rich experiences including visitors and visits enable children to observe and question.

Impact

We believe that it is essential that all pupils are able to explore religions, engage with their knowledge, and reflect on their learning and their lives. Consideration of the pupils' religious experiences and their responses in discussion forms part of our formative assessment. Each sequence of learning will enable pupils to deepen their knowledge and understanding of the essential core ideas and practices of the religions and beliefs being studied and that this is shown in the development of their abilities to interpret, apply and evaluate those ideas and practices. At the end of each sequences of learning, assessment for each pupil is guided by the statements that support the progression and attainment for each year group. Over the year there should be a variety of AT1 and AT2 pieces in different styles of creativity, such as discussion, role play, drama, music, art, writing, reading, research, presentation and design. A range of monitoring strategies by the subject leader and senior managers, including book trawls, planning checks, pupil voice and learning walks support the assessment of impact across year groups. At the end of Key Stage Two, the collection of data is reported to the local authority.

CURRICULUM DRIVERS

DIVERSITY ‘To celebrate the differences of each individual within our school community.’	COMMUNITY ‘To understand that we are part of the local community and the impact that it has on us.’	EMOTIONAL AWARENESS To be aware of my emotions and the emotions of those around me.’
All religious beliefs are celebrated locally, nationally and globally. We value, question, and respond thoughtfully to the ideas concerning the diverse communities and our own beliefs and that of others. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Places of worship and rituals across religions and how they can be different within the same religion</li> <li>• Worshiping at home across a variety of religions and non-religions</li> <li>• How different religions welcome a new baby – across religions and non-religions</li> </ul>	In RE, we discuss how belonging to a community can be valuable in many aspects, and to celebrate our own communities and acknowledge and understand those of others. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Mandir within the community and rituals (visit a Mandir)</li> <li>• Worshiping at home</li> <li>• How different religions welcome a new baby/naming ceremony – acrostic poem and own name</li> </ul>	Through RE we discuss and apply our own and others’ ideas about ethical questions, including ideas about what is right and wrong and what is just and fair, and demonstrating a sense of empathy towards others beliefs, thoughts and emotions. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• How people see things differently – blind men and the elephant story/and optical illusions</li> <li>• Story of Krishna – is it right to steal?</li> <li>• Looking at Karma and reincarnation for Hindus</li> </ul>

QUESTION: What can we learn from some aspects of the Hindu religion?

LEARNING INTENTIONS: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• To describe the key features of a Mandir. To describe aspects of Hindu worship. (What happens in a Mandir?)</li> <li>• To compare religious buildings within and between religions. To begin to understand that there is diversity of expression of belief within all religions. (Are all Mandirs the same?)</li> <li>• To know how Hindus may worship at home. To consider how religious beliefs can impact on a person’s way of life. (How do Hindus worship at home?)</li> <li>• To consider how people see things differently. To show understanding of what Hindus believe about God. (How do we see things?)</li> <li>• To further understanding of the concept of God in Hinduism and the role of the deities. (What can stories and images of deities tell us about Hindu belief about god?)</li> <li>• To define the key Hindu terms Atman, Samsara and Karma. To be able to explain Hindu beliefs about the cycle of rebirth and the effect of Karma. (What is karma and why do the Hindus believe in reincarnation (Dharma)?)</li> </ul>	RELIGIOUS LINKS: Christianity, Islam, Judaism, Buddhism, Sikhism, Non-Religious beliefs Removal of shoes, ringing bell, circumambulating the shrine, making an offering, singing bhajans and the Arti ceremony ending with the blessings and sharing of PRASHAD, Spiritualism, puja, worship in places other than a religious place, Murtis, Is it right to steal? 10 commandments, Rules and morals, Buddaism-Karma, reincarnation, deities CURRICULUM LINKS: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Speaking and listening through discussion, questions and answers</li> <li>• English – poetry, stories, vocabulary subject related and descriptive, information poster, presentation skills</li> <li>• Art and design – drawing, pastels</li> <li>• ICT – research skills</li> <li>• Geography – land marks of India</li> </ul>
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>To understand that different parts of the world/religions have different rituals to perform when a baby is welcomed into the world. (How do people celebrate new life?)</li> </ul>
AT1			AT2
EMERGING	EXPECTED	EXCEEDING	EMERGING	EXPECTED	EXCEEDING
Make connections between different belief and practices of all religions.	Make links and compare stories, beliefs and practices from different religions including differences and similarities.	To understand and evaluate the diversity of belief in different religions, nationally and globally. Articulate and apply the different responses to ethical questions from a range of different religions	To reflect and respond to the significance of meaning behind different beliefs and practices.	Respond thoughtfully to a range of sacred writings, stories and provide good reason for differences and similarities in different texts. Recognise those with no faith also have a belief system.	Express views creatively as to why belonging to a faith community may be valuable both to different faith members and to their own lives. Discuss and apply their own and others ideas about ethical questions and to express their own ideas clearly in response.